One-story, scored brick with a front-gable roof of asphalt shingles on a brick foundation. A partial-width, shed roof porch is on the W façade. An extension under a side-gable forms a porte-cochere on the N elevation, and is supported by brick columns with concrete caps atop brick piers with concrete caps. Four, diamond-pattern, wood-frame windows, decorative half-timbering and a triangular, lattice vent are in the gable end. The façade has 3 symmetrical bays, consisting of a 15-light, Craftsman wood door with a 3-part transom that is flanked by paired 9/1 wood-frame windows on the left and a single wood-frame window to the right (outside the porch). All windows have concrete sills. The building has a soldier cornice and a scored brick chimney on the N elevation.
