Brief Description:

One-story, textured brick Tudor house with a side-gable roof of asphalt shingles on a brick foundation. 2 stone and brick interior chimneys pierce the front slope. A centered, steeply-pitched, cross-gable projects slightly from the façade (S), resting on stone and brick columns, creating an entrance to the recessed porch. The front gable-end is sided in stucco with 6/1 wood-frame window with louvered, wood shutters. Under the porch is a centered, 3-light, vertical plank wood door, which is flanked by 6/1 wood-frame windows with stone-work decoration where the pilaster surround should be. To either side of the porch are paired 6/1 wood-frame windows with concrete sills. There is stucco in the side gable-end.
