Brief Description:

One-and-a-half story, with a hip roof of asbestos shingles on a brick foundation. Two front-facing gables pierce the front slope, along with a brick chimney with a metal cap. To the far left of the façade (E) is a small, undercut porch, which rests on corner brick posts with 2 segmental arches. To the right of this porch is a larger front-facing gable with a 3/1 wood-frame window in the gable end and a 3-part, 9/1 Craftsman-type window with concrete sills and applied shutters in the lower wall. Continuing right, a smaller gable projects from the façade wall to form an open vestibule with round-arch openings. At far right, are paired 9/1 Craftsman-type window as well as the side-gable ends. The doors are obscured by screen doors.
